MINUTES
OF THE
Annual Meeting of the Members
OF THE
Pacific Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Home Society

HELD THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1911
AT 8 O'CLOCK P. M., AT OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, 436 O'FARRELL STREET

The meeting was called to order by President M. C. Sloss, a quorum of the members being present.

The reading of the minutes of the previous annual meeting was, on motion, dispensed with.

President Sloss then submitted his annual report, which was followed by annual reports from Messrs. Abraham Haas, chairman of the Board of Governors; Meyer H. Levy, Secretary; I. W. Hellman, Treasurer; Jacob Stern, chairman of the Finance Committee; Henry Mauser, Superintendent of the Orphanage, and Gustave Schnee, Superintendent of the Home.

On motion of Mr. M. J. Brandenstein, seconded by Mr. S. W. Levy and carried, the reports were accepted, ordered spread in full upon the minutes, and that a suitable number of copies be ordered printed for distribution among the members and the general public.

President Sloss announced that, in conformity with the Constitution and By-Laws of this Society, he had appointed Messrs. Henry Meyer, Fred Baruch, Louis Greenebaum, Ludwig Schwabacher and Simon Ans-pacher as members of a Nominating Committee to nominate five Trustees for this Society, whose term of office expires on December 1, 1911; that the Nominating Committee has placed in nomination Messrs. Max J. Brandenstein, Jacob Stern, S. I. Wormser, Alexander Goldstein and Sigmund Schwabacher, and declared the polls for balloting open.

There being no opposition to the Trustees placed in nomination, it was ordered, on motion duly made and carried, that the rules regarding balloting be dispensed with.

The President thereupon appointed Messrs. Chas. Edelman and D. Michael as tellers, and the Secretary was authorized to cast the ballot for Messrs. Max J. Brandenstein, Jacob Stern, S. I. Wormser, Alexander Goldstein and Sigmund Schwabacher, and this being complied with, they were duly declared elected Trustees of this Society to serve for the ensuing term of three years, ending November 30, 1914.

On motion of Mr. Edelman, seconded by Dr. M. Meyer and carried, it was Resolved, That all the acts, deeds and proceedings of the Board of Trustees for the year just passed are hereby ratified, approved and confirmed.

The following amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws were then introduced by the Secretary, viz.: Amendment No. 1:

Amendment No. 3:

Section 2 of Article 9 of the Constitution amended by changing the word September to February.

Amendment No. 4:

Section 8 of Article 9 of the Constitution amended by changing the word December to April.

Amendment No. 5:

Section 6 of Article 1 of the By-Laws amended by changing the word November to March.

Amendment No. 6:

Section 7 of Article 1 of the By-Laws eliminated.

Amendment No. 7:

Section 1 of Article 2 of the By-Laws amended by changing the word November to March.

Amendment No. 8:

Add a new section, numbered 7, to Article 7 of the Constitution, to read: "The fiscal year of this Society shall commence on the 1st day of January and end on the 31st day of December of each year."

The following amendments were also offered by Mr. A. Sapiro, viz.:

Amend Article 7, Section 3, to read:

"SEC. 3. At each annual meeting of the Society, there shall be elected five Trustees, to serve for the term of three years. No Trustee shall hold office for more than two consecutive full terms, but shall be eligible for re-election upon the lapse of one fiscal year from the end of his last term of office. All Trustees in office on September 1, 1911, shall be subject to this amendment and shall be considered as then serving their first term of office."

Amend Article 7, Section 6, to read:

"SEC. 6. The Board of Trustees shall have the privilege of electing Honorary Trustees from those who have served as Trustees of this Society for not less than six consecutive years."

Amend Article 9, Section 2, to read:

"SEC. 2. At least sixty days prior to the annual meeting in September, the President shall appoint a Nominating Committee of five members, not more than two of whom shall be members of the Board of Trustees, who shall present the names of candidates for Trustees to serve for the ensuing term, and shall report the same at least four weeks before election, and their report shall be posted at the Orphan Asylum, at the Home, and at the office of the Society. The committee must present the names of at least two candidates for each vacancy."

Amend Section 3 to read:

"SEC. 3. At such annual meeting three Inspectors of Election shall be appointed by the President or Board of Trustees, whose duty it shall be to conduct all elections, to receive the votes of all members qualified to vote, and to count and canvass the same. After the completion of the canvass, they shall sign and file with the Secretary a certificate setting forth: 1st, the names of all the candidates with the votes of each; 2d, the total number of votes cast, and, 3d, the names of the candidates, to such number as corresponds with the number of vacancies, receiving the highest total of votes, and such candidates shall be declared elected. And the Secretary shall, within one week thereafter, deliver to each of the successful candidates a certificate of his election, under said Secretary's hand and sealed with the seal of the Society."

Amend Section 4 to read:

"SEC. 4. The polls of such election shall remain open for two hours and all elections for Trustees shall be held by ballot. Printed ballots, containing the names of all the candidates, arranged in alphabetical order, shall be provided and the choice of members voting shall be indicated by marking a cross (X) opposite the names of the candidates voted for."

Amend Section 5 to read:

"SEC. 5. All votes cast for persons not duly nominated or posted shall be counted as blank votes. All ballots which contain a total of votes less than the number of vacancies to be filled at the election shall be counted as blank."

On motion of Reverend Martin A. Meyer, duly seconded and carried, the President was authorized to appoint a committee of fifteen for the revision of the Constitution and By-Laws, and that three members of said committee shall be selected from the Board of Trustees of this Society.

The President thereupon appointed as members of said committee: Messrs. Rev. Martin A. Meyer, chairman; Juda Newman, Alexander Goldstein, Lucius L. Solomons, Sam Dinkelspiel, Lesser Prager, Harris Weinstock, Sanford Goldstein, M. H. Wascerwitz, Charles Edelman, Mrs. A. Lengfeld, Mrs. S. M. Ehrman, Mrs. Wm. Frank, Mrs. Al. Liebenthal, Mrs. A. Haas.

On motion of Reverend Meyer, duly seconded and carried, it was Resolved, That a committee be appointed to draft a set of appropriate resolutions to the memory of Dr. Henry Gibbons, Jr., for his kind and gratuitous medical services rendered the children of the Orphanage for a period of over thirty-four years.

The President appointed Rev. Meyer a committee of one, who thereupon presented the following resolutions, viz.:

In the death of Dr. Henry Gibbons, Jr., the community of San Francisco and the medical profession have suffered a grievous loss. But even more do his friends feel keenly the demise of a man of such sterling character and unselfish activity.

For many years the wards of the P. H. O. A. were under the gratuitous care of Dr. Gibbons. More cheerful service was never rendered. Always ready and eager to serve and to heal, he endeared himself to the individuals under his charge as well as to the officers and administrators of the institution. His generosity is not forgotten; his name stands among our generous benefactors, for he gave himself.

In our ancient literature it is written that "the righteous of people shall enjoy a share of the life eternal." Henry Gibbons will live in peace in the realm of the everlasting, and his memory be treasured and honored by the friends of humanity.

God bless his name, and send comfort of sympathetic love to those who, nearest and dearest to him, most deeply mourn his loss.

The memory of the righteous is a blessing. On behalf of the P. H. O. A. & H. S., with love and affection.

M. C. SLOSS,
President.

MEYER H. LEVY,
Secretary.

The meeting then adjourned.

MEYER H. LEVY,
Secretary.

President's Report

To the Honorary President, Officers and Members of the Pacific Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Home Society.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the established custom, I beg to present to you my report of the condition and progress of the Society during the past year. In so doing, I shall deal with the direction and management of the Orphanage and the Home in a general way merely, as the reports of the Superintendent of the Orphanage and of the Superintendent and Matron of the Home will give full and detailed information, together with all needed statistics, concerning the activities of the two institutions and the welfare of their inmates.

The financial operations of the Society during the past year are shown by the report of the Secretary. I desire, however, to call your attention to certain features of this report which by comparison with the corresponding items of the preceding year are at once interesting and gratifying. In the report which I made a year ago, I felt impelled to make some comment with regard to the expenditures of the Society, which for the year 1909-10 reached the high figure of $75,324.17. It was pointed out that this heavy expense was due, in large part, to the fact that the Board of Trustees had been compelled during the year to expend considerable sums in repair and improvement of grounds, buildings and equipment. These expenditures being for permanent betterments, a considerable diminution of outlay for the succeeding year was to be hoped for. I am glad to be able to say that this expectation has been realized. The total expenditures of the Society for all purposes during the year last past has been $61,964.17, or $13,360 less than during 1909-10. The actual cost of maintaining the Asylum and the Home without regard to payments for improvements and the like has been substantially the same as last year, a reduction in the expense of maintaining the Home being slightly more than counter-balanced by an increase for the Asylum. This increase is, however, in part at least, to be accounted for by necessary changes in the dietary, of which I shall have a few words to say later.

The Secretary's financial statement is further interesting in its demonstration of the great advantage which this Society has derived from the formation of the Federation of Jewish Charities. Some difficulty in drawing conclusions arises from the fact that our fiscal year, ending August 31st, does not coincide with that of the Federation, which makes its collections and allotments on the basis of the calendar year, i. e., January 1st to December 31st. Accordingly, the amount shown in the report as received from the Federation on account of apportionment for 1911 ($38,109.97) in reality includes an apportionment made in 1910 after August 31st, the close of our fiscal year, and for the same reason excludes such further apportionment as will be made by the Federation during the current calendar year 1911. These two items are about equal, and the amount shown as received from the Federation is approximately equal to the annual allowance which this Society, on the present basis of collections and disbursements by the Federation, would have a right to expect. I suggest, however, the advisability of changing our fiscal year to correspond with that of the Federation, in order to simplify the keeping of the accounts and the making of necessary calculations.

It will be seen that the allotment from the Federation, added to our regular sources of income, such as interest, rent and State aid, brings our total receipts, exclusive of donations and bequests, up to $55,346.98, a sum which is very nearly the cost of the maintenance of the Asylum and the Home. We are thus enabled to apply the sums received by way of donation to the payment of expenses outside of regular maintenance such as improvements to buildings, grounds or plant, and in addition to show a surplus of some $4,000, which, as recommended in my last report, should be retained, if possible, as part of a real estate and building fund to meet the expense of acquiring a new location and structures for the Orphanage.

In this connection I may say that the Board has felt more strongly than ever that the time is near at hand when the present grounds and buildings on Devisadero Street should be abandoned and the Orphanage moved to a site more favorable to the proper care and development of the children. The advantages of having an educational institution of this character in a more isolated location are obvious. Besides, the building is old and does not comply with modern standards for structures designed to house large numbers of children. A committee appointed by me during the year under the chairmanship of the Vice-President has been actively engaged in seeking a proper site in the country for our Orphanage. A number of tracts have been offered and examined and several of these are now under consideration. It is hoped that the committee will soon be able to present to the Board a site which will fulfil all of the requirements and conditions of area, nearness to educational facilities, wholesomeness of climate, together with good soil and an adequate supply of pure water.

When this is accomplished, the further steps for the planning of the necessary buildings and providing for their construction will be promptly undertaken.

Early in the year, Mrs. M. E. Jaffa, who, in addition to her training as a physician, has established a high reputation as an expert in dietetics, was good enough to give to the Orphanage the benefit of her advice with respect to the diet of the children. She made a careful study of the conditions affecting the feeding of our children, spending a number of weeks at the work, and made an exhaustive report covering the entire field, and presenting her recommendations. In accordance with this report, a change in the dietary was ordered and this change has been in effect for a number of months. The effect upon the well-being of the children as evidenced by comparative weights and measurements has been extraordinary. The work is, however, not yet completed. Further changes are to be made and until conditions have been brought to the point to which with the assistance of Mrs. Jaffa we are striving, it would not be well to undertake to give the particulars of any changes which have been made or any partial statistics of the results. The changes made have necessitated an increase in the consumption of some articles, notably milk. There is, however, no doubt in my mind that the members of the Society will approve the policy of making any expenditure within reason that may serve to bring our wards up to the physical standard of the average child in a well-ordered home.

It has long been felt that a great saving could be effected by securing a supply of water on our own grounds. Accordingly, we engaged an expert well borer to drill for water on the grounds of the Orphanage, but our hopes were disappointed, as after sinking to a considerable depth no water was obtained.

The conduct of the Orphanage with respect to the education of the children has undergone no great change, the principal item of interest in this connection being the establishment of a course in Domestic Science for the girls, with the intent of fitting them to perform in a competent manner the ordinary duties of the household.

There have been some changes in the staff of the Asylum, Mr. Sapiro having resigned his position as assistant superintendent in order to take up again his legal work, which he had temporarily interrupted at the request of the Board, and being succeeded by Mr. L. J. Gordon. Mrs. Green, who had been acting as assistant matron for a considerable time, resigned, and was succeeded by Mrs. L. M. Sendey, who, in turn, resigned after several months, and was succeeded by Miss Jennie Samuels. Miss Samuels has recently severed her connection with the institution and her place has not yet been filled. The general management of the Asylum has remained in the hands of Mr. Mauser, and that of the Home in those of Mr. and Mrs. Schnee. Of their work I need only repeat what I said in my last report.

In addition to the bequests and donations in money which are shown in the Secretary's report, we are under obligations to generous friends for other benefactions. The Asylum received from Messrs. Sherman, Clay & Co. an upright piano of high grade. Mrs. Bella Schwabacher, who in the preceding year, as noted in the last report, presented the Asylum with a fine library, supplemented her gift with that of ten book cases, which were needed to accommodate some of the books. An emergency dispensary and bathroom and two sick rooms have been completely equipped according to the most approved sanitary requirements by a lady who has shown a very warm interest in the Orphanage. I regret that her own desire that no public recognition of her generosity be made prevents me from expressing in a personal way the deep sense of obligation which we must feel. The same benefactress has provided a fine playground equipment for both the boys' and the girls' side of the yard.

The synagogue at the Home was adorned and improved by the installation of leather-upholstered pews, the gift of Mrs. Jacob Stern, and stained glass windows, the gift of Mrs. B. Schweitzer.

In conclusion, I have to express my grateful appreciation to the Board of Trustees and the various officers of the Society for their earnest and untiring work, which has enabled the Society to complete another year of prosperous activity.

Respectfully submitted,

MAX C. SLOSS,
President.

San Francisco, September 28, 1911.

Report of the Chairman of the Board of Governors

To the President, Officers and Members of the Pacific Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Home Society.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: In accordance with custom, I herewith present to you a report of such matters as come more particularly under my jurisdiction as chairman of the Board of Governors for the year just past.

Applications for admission into the Orphanage of thirty-five children were received, all being from San Francisco, and of these, twenty were acted upon favorably and fifteen rejected.

At the Home, nine applications for admission were received, of which seven were admitted and two are still in the hands of committees to report upon.

Each of these applications has been carefully investigated, and great care exercised by the committees appointed for that purpose as to the worthiness of the applicant, and if some have been rejected, sufficient cause and reason have been found therefor.

Our worthy President has already given you a full account of the more important happenings that have transpired in the history of our Society, so it is therefore useless for me to again reiterate what we have accomplished or dwell upon our shortcomings and the difficulties we have had to contend with, so the few remaining remarks that I have to make will pertain more particularly to the Home, which, as Vice-President of your organization, comes under my more immediate charge.

The happy and contented appearance of our inmates and the splendid condition of the house and grounds are ample evidence that your Board has not been neglectful of those whom you have intrusted to their care. Our Superintendent and Matron, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Schnee, have been indefatigable in their efforts towards making the institution over which they preside a home in the true sense of the word, and by their kindness, gentleness and a supreme desire to assist them in every way, they have brought to the aged inmates in the declining years of their lives sunshine, contentment and happiness.

We have grown in our work, and both of our institutions have advanced and expanded. Our Home is now filled to its utmost capacity, and as our population grows more dense, so also will the number of those who need our benefactions increase. The time is rapidly approaching when much-needed additions and enlargement of the capacity of the Home will have to be undertaken, so there is no reason why our vigilance should slacken or our energies in forwarding the interest of our Society lessen.

I therefore sincerely hope and trust that all of our friends will continue to give us their active co-operation so that our noble Society will progress as favorably in the future as it has in the past.

Respectfully submitted,

ABRAHAM HAAS,
Vice-President.

Pacific Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Home Society.*

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I herewith submit my report for the past fiscal year.

On August 31, 1910, we had 166 children, 83 girls, 83 boys; since then 26 were discharged, 21 were admitted, leaving on August 31, 1911, 161 children, 78 girls and 83 boys.

The number of inmates per month was as follows: September, 165; October, 160; November, 155; December, 154; January, 154; February, 154; March, 158; April, 152; May, 151; June, 154; July, 154; August, 161.

The average per month was 156. The total number of children cared for during the year was 187.

According to age, the children range as follows:

HOUSE AND GROUNDS.

Our building is still unsatisfactory for its purpose in spite of the many improvements that have been made during the past two years. A casual glance would convince any intelligent observer that the three-story and basement wooden structure would be a death trap in case of fire. We have had occasion to think very seriously from this point of view, as since my last annual report there have been four small fires, which, had they not been discovered in time by extreme good fortune, would have ended in the probable destruction of the entire building. It should cause some immediate and deep thinking to realize that this old and drafty building would be an easy prey to the smallest start of fire. There are too many lives involved to warrant our silence on this subject. The building is dangerous, out of accord with modern needs, with constantly increasing expenditures for repairs, and, in the opinion of many, it is representative of the kind of institution that we have outgrown. We recommend with all the earnestness in us that steps be taken to secure both a different system and safer and more sanitary quarters for our children.

Nevertheless, we have done a great deal to make the house safe and livable. In order to lessen the terrors of disaster, we have held many fire drills during the year under as many varied conditions and at as many varied times as we possibly could; and we have re-arranged the younger children's bedrooms so that enough older children sleep next to the little ones to take care of them in case of necessity.

We have also attempted to beautify the rooms, and to encourage the children in their efforts to do so. We have added curtains and pictures in our dining room, have introduced white tablecloths and napkins and have done all that is possible to make these bleak and barren rooms assume an aspect of cheerful homeliness. Through the beneficence of the one person whose generous heart seems to be closest to the needs of our children, we have been given a beautifully equipped rest room for the use of the older girls. The reception hall, the library, the boys' club room and the girls' club room also satisfy the æsthetic requirements as well as their more obvious purposes. We want every room in the house to reflect cheer, because the immediate atmosphere of the child has much to do with the absence or presence of happiness within him.

But perhaps the finest addition to our building has been the renovating and refurnishing of accommodations for our sick. We are forbidden to express our gratitude for this gift, but nothing can prevent us from feeling the deepest appreciation of the womanly insight and motherly generosity which prompted such thoughtfulness. Both the boys' and girls' sick rooms have the walls and floors painted and have been provided with new and completely equipped beds, shades, curtains, tables and various ornaments for beautifying. On the boys' side have been built a thoroughly outfitted bath-room and an emergency surgery with all implements necessary for such a use.

The grounds, too, have been beautified by the creation of grass lawns and flower beds to replace the unsightly scene that greeted you at the last meeting. They are now cared for by the assistance of the boys, and the present fine condition is good evidence of what a surrounding of beauty means to them.

The condition and equipment of the house as they now stand are satisfactory with the exception of the very obvious need of new beds and bedding. This matter has been brought up repeatedly and it has been repeatedly shown that our beds are in poor condition and are not the kind that children should be forced to use. When we realize that they are mere frames with slabs of iron to hold up the mattress, we wonder how all other orphanages around this locality are able to provide their children with modern spring beds while we alone retain these prison cots. We need new beds and we need new pillows and new bedding in general. If these are procured, and they can be reasonably procured, we feel that conditions within the building would be as good as they can be while we are compelled to remain in our present quarters.

DOMESTIC ECONOMIES.

Several domestic economies introduced during the year call for comment. We no longer purchase our meat in small quantities on daily order. We have built a cooling meat room as an annex to our store-room and are thus enabled to purchase our meat in bulk and use it as we need it. The scheme has proved economical and profitable in that it gives us better meat at even less cost. We have also introduced a new and larger mangling machine and body ironer in our laundry, thus enabling us to handle a much greater amount of work, and to enable the children to have more towels, handkerchiefs and napkins than the previous equipment permitted, and also saving the labor of one person, with apparently better results in work.

We have finally dispensed with our shoe-repairing department. The result has given us much finer work and some small saving in the actual cost. Moreover, we are spared the constant need of supervision of work that does not directly lie within the sphere of an orphanage and we have the certainty that the children are receiving as fine care as good materials and expert workmanship can afford.

We have had to face serious difficulties in the matter of servants and employees throughout the house. We could not secure help of the character we considered proper for contact with our children, except at prohibitive wages. It was therefore necessary for us to put the matter squarely before the Board, with the result that we were empowered to employ Japanese to fill the vacancies. We have solved the difficulties and at the present time of writing, use Japanese only for the very heavy and disagreeable work about the house. Wages and labor considered, we can now boast of a very efficient and satisfactory group of helpers in each department.

HEALTH.

The year has given us great concern in the matter of health. We believe that we have taken every possible precaution to make our children strong and healthy and to care for them if they should perchance meet with mishap or disease. Our sick rooms are ideal for all purposes and our physicians could not be more attentive than they have been. The children were very carefully inspected during the year by Doctors Morton Hart and Henry Harris, who noted all abnormal conditions on the cards provided for their records. Doctor Oscar Tobriner inspected the teeth of all the children and made similar reports as to the condition in his department. And, in accordance with the suggestions of these specialists, we have had treatment by the various members of our staff of physicians. So that we feel that every precaution of human foresight has been taken to secure the best living conditions for our wards. We have had, however, epidemics of mumps and measles during the year, and five cases of ringworm on the scalp, three of which still persist, although under marked improvement.

The list of cases was:

20 cases measles.

24 cases mumps.

9 cases adenoids (operated).

7 cases enlarged tonsils (operated).

2 cases strabismus (operated).

1 case pneumonia.

1 case broken arm.

1 case broken nose.

1 case abscess of jaw.

1 case dislocation of jaw.

1 case double mastoid (operated).

We must acknowledge the deepest appreciation for the services of Doctors Hart, Harris and Tobriner in making detailed examinations of almost two hundred children and in suggesting lines of treatment for every abnormal condition. It required a great deal of time to do this and a tremendous amount of patience, and we believe that the community owes these three men a much larger appreciation than I can here express in words.

This year we have paid more than ordinary heed to the care of the teeth. Much work has been done by our very efficient dentist, Doctor Louis Constine, and the benefit to the children has been very evident. We have learned a lesson in this regard. We have learned that the care of the teeth is as important as the care of the eyes and other special organs, and we propose to be watchful at all times. Our children must be in thorough condition and we cannot afford to ignore a single factor.

DIET.

After a complete and thorough study of this subject, we came to the conclusion that our diet was not so satisfactory as we could make it. We therefore investigated the subject deeply, gathered statistics on the weights and ages of the children to see if they were below standard, kept a record of their likes and dislikes, and at the proper time requested the expert assistance of Mrs. Professor Jaffa, who very generously responded to our call. Mrs. Jaffa lived in our home for a week and at the end of that time was enabled to help us frame a diet with some definite understanding of our particular limitations. We now believe that we have as good and satisfactory a diet as any institution in the country. We have on file a copy of the diet which is now actually in use in our home, and without hesitation declare that it will serve a model for all child-caring organizations. We have but one further step to take in this regard. We want to eliminate all waste in food and we expect during the near future to make a complete study of the question of waste in the dining rooms and kitchen in order to limit ourselves to the proper amounts of food and to control extravagance in cooking and serving.

EDUCATION.

During this year we have made tremendous strides in helping the children to develop themselves physically. We have secured the services of Professor Miehlings to instruct the children every Sunday morning in class gymnastics and at his suggestion we have obtained a great deal of new equipment for the gymnasium—traveling rings, stall bars, balance bar, low parallel bars, punching bag, Indian clubs, wands, etc. For the greater part of these, we are indebted to Mrs. Sidney Ehrman, and we believe that no better investment could have been made for the particular benefit of the children. We have also seen the installation of what has been our chief desire for many years—a completely equipped outdoor playground. We owe this again to the same generous soul who furnished our sick rooms and rest room, and we trust that she feels amply recompensed for her kindness in the joy that our children and the children of the neighborhood have been granted through her kindness. Not another institution in this section can show the advantages for physical training that you can see around you, and the improved condition and growth of our children bear ample testimony to the value of such superiority.

We have made many advances in other forms of development and education. We have equipped a large room for manual training. Eight boys are now taking the work under our personal direction. Each has his own work bench and tools and with four and a half hours a week for actual work can turn out a great many articles for the use of the house in general. There are several samples of their skill to be seen in the work room and about the house, and we heartily commend the results of the few months that we have thus far been able to spend in this way.

We began our classes in Domestic Science some months ago under the charge of a teacher who came twice a week and instructed twelve girls in a limited amount of cooking. But there was nothing else done in the department and the instruction in this line was too meager to be practical. We have therefore recently changed the entire system to the following effect: All the older girls are taught cooking, washing, dressmaking, sewing and general housework in the periods after school each day under the care of Miss H. Mamlock. In this way we hope that they will cover the entire field of girls' work, including a bit of millinery, for which we have not yet been enabled to make definite plans. The girls receive additional help in this regard from Mrs. Martin A. Meyer, who instructs them twice monthly how to set tables, serve food and, in general, to conduct themselves properly in the dining room.

Our younger girls also receive instruction in sewing three times a week. These classes are held in the open air, in preference to the school rooms. This method is giving good results as the children are not compelled to submit to the same discipline necessary in a class room.

We have encouraged the use of our splendid library to the fullest extent. We now have over 1,960 volumes of children's literature, with books to satisfy every possible age and temperament. The children are permitted to borrow books, according to their grade in school, at least once a week, and the average weekly circulation is now 68 books. We have a complete card catalogue of the names and authors of every book and keep an exact record of the time for withdrawal of each volume. The children come to the library on the evenings assigned to their particular division, so that every part of the week has been perfectly systematized and supervised. The books are housed in a room that does credit to the collection and we take particular pride in the best children's library on the Coast.

We no longer conduct our little kindergarten on the premises. The room has been devoted to the use of a girls' club room and the little children are taken each morning to the Golden Gate Kindergarten, where they receive the best personal instruction and suffer no inconvenience from the short walk.

So far as school reports are concerned, we have nothing to add to our usual commendation except that the girls have now been transferred to the Denman School on the top of the hill and our boys have been divided between the Crocker and Fremont Schools. We now have one boy in Cincinnati at the Hebrew Union College, two boys at Lowell High School, three boys and two girls at Commercial High and two girls at Girls' High School. This means that we are giving the opportunity of higher education to six per cent of our children and we intend to recommend every worthy child for the opportunity to go through high school and learn to develop his brain in addition to his brawn. Reports from all sources are very complimentary in regard to the children and their records are a source of pride to those who make inquiries.

Our evening school is now in exceptionally capable hands. It is very rare to find an individual who can inject her whole personality into almost every child in a big home like ours and can make every child feel that she stands for something distinct and something inspiring. Miss Emma Noonan has done this from the very first day of her work with us, has helped every movement among the boys and girls to its present satisfactory condition and has contributed more in personal service and in material ways to the development and encouragement of children's activities than any person other than Mrs. M. A. Gunst.

Our efforts in religious matters have been greatly extended during the past year. We reorganized our Sabbath-school in every particular through the able services of Mr. A. L. Sapiro, Mrs. S. Caro and Mr. Leo Rabinowitz, and have mapped out courses of work which will cover the entire ground of Jewish literature and religion in the space of a five-year period for each child. This is the average length of stay and we believe that we can cover the ground more thoroughly and regularly than any Sabbath-school in the city. We have also paid particular attention to our synagogue services and have celebrated each holiday and religious festival appropriately. On Hannukah we had a very beautiful children's service; Pesach and Purim we celebrated in ways that the children will not soon forget, and on Hannukah night, through the kindness of Mrs. Spiegel, Mrs. Jacobi, the Ladies' Auxiliary and a club from Miss Meininger's class in the Emanu-El Sabbath-school, all the children were presented with individual gifts and showered with goodies of various kinds. On the major holy days, our beautiful little synagogue was the means for emphasizing the spirit and the interpretation of each religious occasion with splendid effect.

We have attempted to introduce a broader spirit into our home and with this aim in view have encouraged many lectures and concerts. We shall refer to these later under "Children's Activities," for they were primarily arranged for and by the children themselves.

We have given the greatest attention to musical culture. We have selected records for our graphophone with great care and have attempted to secure admission for the children to concerts and musical events. Quite a few of the girls receive piano lessons and our little choir has been a tremendous agency for inspiring a love and knowledge of real music.

The band has been an object of particular pride. Under the tuition of Mr. Philip Sapiro, the boys have made such progress that musicians all over town have commented upon the rapid development of the new material. The boys are learning not merely to play, but to read and understand music, to develop taste and to form some judgment as to values of music. We feel greatly indebted to Mr. Sapiro for his able service and his exceptional interest in our boys. Our drum corps unfortunately has not fared so well. We lost our leader and have been attempting to maintain our standard by our own efforts. Under the leadership of little Sanford de Bow, the boys have done very good work, and we give public commendation to little Sanford, who had the grit and interest to refuse to let the drum corps die for want of leadership.

We now regard the Emanu-El Sisterhood as in some way an annex to our home. When our girls leave us, if they have no relatives to go to, they live at the Emanu-El Sisterhood on payment of sums in proportion to their income. The Sisterhood becomes their actual home, supplying not only the physical needs, but also incentives to culture and happiness. We feel that in some respects the concerns of the Emanu-El Sisterhood, so far as they relate to the care of our girls, are of great importance to the Orphanage; but inasmuch as the direct care of the girls is left to the Board of the Emanu-El, we believe that they must consider themselves wholly responsible for the happiness and well-being of the girls. We desire to emphasize this point at the present time, not to avoid responsibility, but in order to indicate to those interested exactly how thorough and how critical their scrutiny and attention must be.

CHILDREN'S ACTIVITIES.

We now reach what is in our humble opinion the most important section of our report—the activities of the children. We would consider OUR work a total failure unless we saw the reflection in counter activities among the boys and girls. They have done many things, have developed many little institutions, and some of them are of sufficient importance to warrant mention at this time.

A. Children's courts. Our boys' and girls' courts, composed of a chief justice and four associates, have done splendid service during the year. They have drawn up all the rules for the house in reference to the children. They have determined the hours for the bells to ring; they selected the time for rising in the morning; they voted on the hour of going to bed. Every detail of routine has been their choice. They have done remarkable and conscientious work in this regard. They have also selected all the medalists and prize winners with exceptional justice. They have heard and judged most of the breaches of discipline arising in the house, have made suggestions as to the use of the library, as to food, clothing, appearance of the house and everything else that can come within the sphere of children's interests. We would not be just if we failed to acknowledge our appreciation to these courts for creating an entirely new and independent spirit of helpfulness among the children.

B. We must also explain the work of the athletic councils, giving our special commendation to the boys. These councils select the sports which the children are to adopt, choose the managers and captains of the teams and award the sweaters and pins for meritorious work. They have complete charge of uniforms and equipment and have done admirable work in creating pride in home activities. The boys have uniforms for all their games and are backed up by a splendid rooting section and the full spirit of every child in the house. It is no wonder that they have defeated all antagonists. Under the leadership of our boys, the Jewish Sabbath-school Athletic League of San Francisco was formed during the past year. There have been to date one track meet, one basketball series, one handball tournament and one baseball series. Two trophies were contested for during this year and both of these trophies are now in the possession of our boys. They also won a special trophy through a series of baseball games with the Stockton Sabbath-school. In all of these cases, the opposing teams have been much larger than our boys, but organization and pride in the Home that they represented have proven stronger than mere physical advantages. Nothing that I could suggest speaks more for the fine health of our children and their splendid home spirit than the possession of these three trophies. Every child in the house feels proud of his home, and it is most unusual for children to be actually and positively proud that they come from an orphanage. This is due wholly to the fact that they have made the Orphanage something to be proud of, and we must thank each one of them for this great service.

The girls have not accomplished very much in the line of athletics, but under the leadership of Miss Ida Miller, who has just completed her training in children's playground work, they have taken a new impetus and bid fair to make a record comparable to that of the boys. They have learned the beauty and grace of folk dances and gave an exhibition of these dances to the children on the Fourth of July. We commend highly this interesting and æsthetic form of play and we are grateful to Miss Emma Noonan and Miss Miller for their patience and labor with the little ones.

LABOR COUNCILS.

C. Our little labor councils have done their work well. They distribute all the work among the children, choose the inspectors and dismiss or retain the inspector according to the way in which the grounds and building are kept. They have distributed the chores with reasonable fairness and soundness of judgment.

D. The club spirit has been very strong among us during the past year. The Girls' Auxiliary, composed of the older girls, has been hardly more than a name, but the Jane Addams Club, the younger girls, has done exceptionally well. They have undertaken to supply the dining room with vases and flowers for every Jewish holiday and every celebration. They have undertaken to passe-partout pictures and distribute them all over the house; they have undertaken to give affairs for the children three or four times a year, and, besides this, they have debates, readings and splendid meetings in which subjects of an enlightening nature are discussed. They gave a Purim dance at which every child in the house was masked and costumed and at which every child had a particularly enjoyable time. On Fourth of July, celebration was managed wholly by the Jane Addams Club, which supplied both entertainment and refreshments for the audience.

The club has also introduced a series of lectures, given in the synagogue at intervals of about one month. Doctor Jessica Peixotto gave a charming explanation of "Why We Love Fairies"; Doctor Martin Meyer told all about the little Jewish children of other lands; Mr. Harris Weinstock gave a striking and effective talk on being square and generous. The Jane Addams Club made all the arrangements for these speakers and provided in them most entertaining and inspiring evenings. All in all, they have undertaken to supply the elements of joy, beauty and self-helpfulness, and they have accomplished a vast step in this direction.

The Boys' Club has but recently been reorganized. Their beautiful room was equipped with chairs, rugs, tables, pictures, plants and banners chiefly through the thoughtfulness and generosity of the Jane Addams Club. They have begun to reciprocate by doing things for the house and thus far have given one dance to the children and have projected several interesting debates with the Jane Addams Club and other evenings of self-education and enjoyment. They also intend to assume charge of the religious celebrations on Succoth, Han-nukah, Purim and Pesach.

E. Our Boy Scout movement progressed very well for a long time and was the only engineering corps in the State. Mr. Wm. Wollner organized and drilled the boys, and the Pathfinder Patrol had many a good hike and many a joyous outing under his guidance. We believe that the Boy Scout movement should be encouraged and we trust that our good friend will see his way clear to resume charge.

F. The P. H. O. A. Savings Bank is in a very flourishing condition. We now have 123 depositors, total deposits of $604.91, an average of $4.92 for each depositor. The bank pays interest at six per cent on all deposits and encourages thrift in every way. The bank also does a collection business. If a child owes money to another or to the corporation, the bank undertakes to collect the debt and charges a penny or so for its trouble. In this way the bank manages to pay the cashier fifty cents a month, which, incidentally, he earns ten times over.

G. The Refreshment Corporation shows the most remarkable results of any financial institution we have been connected with. It has been in existence but little over a year. During that time it has paid over six hundred per cent in dividends and has now on hand the amount originally subscribed—$25—a surplus of $22.50, stock on hand worth $6.00, linoleum, curtains and stand, all purchased by the corporation itself. The children conduct this business in a very wise manner, refusing to sell to extravagant and sickly children and encouraging the purchase by friends and relatives of such things as are beneficial as well as enjoyable for the children.

We close this section with the feeling that the children have done an almost incredible amount of work in organizing and maintaining these various activities. We single out for special commendation, in connection with these movements, Abe Friedman, Charles Davis, Charles Silvey and Saul Klein among the boys, and Ida Miller, Annie Blumenthal, Ethel Silvey and Fannie Fabian among the girls.

INDIVIDUALISM.

We have always maintained the necessity for bringing out the individuality of the children, to remove as much institutionalism as is possible without destroying the routine inevitable in such a place. We have therefore tried to make our children like the children of the outside world in comforts, appearance, in manners and in feeling. We encouraged the idea of a rest room, so that the older girls, when tired, could rest and take ease as they would in their own homes. We insist upon the right of each child to show and express his preference for particular education or particular work, and if his preference seems wise, we encourage him. We have done our best to destroy the suggestion of uniforms. We buy as many and as desirable patterns as we can for clothing and we have the garments cut in the most reasonable modern fashion and in every way try to dress the children so that one could not tell by meeting them that they come from anything other than the average home. Our greatest advances in this regard were the introduction of knickerbocker suits for the boys and summer dresses and sane underwear for the girls, and umbrellas and rubbers for all the children who required them. As a whole, we think our children are dressed as simply and acceptably as the most critical could desire.

We have made special efforts in the dining room to develop the individual. We have small family tables and soon expect to seat the children of one family together and to group friends as near as we can to one another so as to make the company at the table as congenial as that of a home ought to be. We have introduced white tablecloths and white napkins, so that the children should have a table set before them in exactly the same manner as in other homes and so that they may take greater care of the appearance of things. For the finer a thing looks, the more they try to keep it looking fine. Each child now butters his own bread, seasons his own food and does such other things for himself as is the custom among the children. All in all, we aim to develop in our children a proper regard for themselves and a pride in the things about them.

There is one other feature of our dining room which is perhaps the most beautiful single suggestion we have evolved. A birthday is an individual's most personal day and we have attempted to respect this feeling by keeping one table for the use of birthday parties only. Whenever a child's birthday comes, he may invite to his party four children absolutely of his own choice and he sits at the special table with his friends and has his few little extras and feels that it is truly his birthday, his personal celebration. We do not hesitate to say that the birthday table is the sweetest and most heart-tugging feature of our dining hall.

RECORDS.

This year has seen great progress in the matter of office records. We have cards giving the complete physical condition of each child and the treatment he may receive at any date. We have cards showing the complete record of the child at school and at home and his physical growth. We have also made a decided advance in our system of keeping accounts, now having a complete inventory and requisition system and an absolutely modern method of bookkeeping. We hope soon to have our accounts and records in as up-to-date a condition as those of any similar institution in the country. We have only one group of cards to add to our collection, the records of our graduates. This has been a tremendous task, but we have a great deal of data and will secure more during the coming years and so perfect our office system.

EXECUTIVES.

We are very fortunate in now having the service of Mr. Louis J. Gordon as assistant superintendent. He has proved himself thoroughly efficient and thoroughly equipped in every regard. He has gained the confidence and affection of the children and will prove invaluable in our efforts to develop their character and well-being. We held ourselves very unfortunate, on the other hand, in losing the services of Miss Maysie Smythe, who for many years showed exceeding capacity and tact in her work among us. She has been succeeded by Miss Mary Cowling, who is perhaps as capable and as well beloved a woman as ever stepped within our institution. We are particularly to be congratulated on her presence among us and expect her to develop far along the lines of her predecessor. We have also created the situation of governess, by which we mean some one who will direct the play of the children, take an active part in their various organizations and activities and be the chief agent for supervising the routine of the girls. One of our own graduates, Miss Ida Miller is at the present time performing this work and has shown remarkable ability in handling the problem. She promises, under our tuition and guidance, to develop expert capacities for this branch, and we believe that her success indicates the correctness of our judgment in selecting a girl of our own training for this position of our own creation.

Our special thanks are due to the Mount Zion Hospital, Lane, Children's and California Hospitals for their kind accommodation and care for our children. In this regard, we owe particular gratitude to the Mt. Zion Hospital, Miss Bertha Cohen, superintendent, and Miss McKenzie, superintendent of nurses, for the exceptional attention given to our little ones. We thank the managers of the Alcazar and Columbia Theaters and the Fairyland Nickelodeon for many courtesies. We express our sincere appreciation of the great service given to our wards by Doctors H. Gibbons, Jr., M. R. Gibbons, Rosenstirn, Harris, Brunn, Hart, Sewell, Barkan, Tobriner, Friedlander, Voorsanger, Davidson, Sherman, Hunken and Levison.

We thank Doctor Marin A. Meyer, Mr. Harris Weinstock and Miss Jessica Peixotto for their helpful talks; Mrs. Martin Meyer, Mr. Wm. Woolner, Mrs. Shapro, Miss Stolz and Miss Hyman for their services as teachers and leaders; we thank Mr. Lachman for the very generous use of his grounds for our annual picnic; we thank the Newbauer Dyeing and Cleaning Co. for their very frequent services; we owe particular thanks to Mr. Philip H. Sapiro and the Musicians' Union for supplying us with orchestras for the various dances and occasions at which the children have enjoyed music. We appreciate the kindness of Mr. Will Greenebaum in providing us with tickets for his concerts and to Mr. J. Cal Ewing for his courtesies during the baseball season in favor of our boys. We also thank the Call, Examiner, Post, Globe and Bulletin for their daily papers. And, as an organization, we owe a tremendous debt of gratitude to those whose interest in our home has been shown by personal service, by knowing our children and giving them the joy of kind words and friendship. There are several who do this, but they will pardon us if we single out Mr. Max Rosenberg as a type of this most valuable and most praiseworthy friend. To all of them we owe our thanks.

The year has been full of work, but equally full of happiness in the knowledge that the children know and appreciate what we have tried to do and have actually accomplished. We have improved the condition of the house, added much to the individual interests of our boys and girls and have advanced far in the direction of converting the Asylum into the Home.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY MAUSER,
Superintendent.

Medical Reports of the Orphanage

Report of Dr. Henry Harris

To the President and Board of Directors of the Pacific Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Home Society.

GENTLEMEN: I beg leave to present the following general report concerning the health conditions of the Asylum:

In all, it has been eminently satisfactory. In spite of the existence of twenty cases of measles and twenty-four cases of mumps, some of the latter being rather severe, no fatalities have occurred, nor serious after effects. The children previously examined, in addition to those admitted during the year, have been re-examined and supplemental notes made on their conditions. These notes now exist in the form of a card index.

In general, it may be said that the findings indicated a well-nourished and well-developed group of children. Such defects as were found, as anemia, bronchitis and indigestion, were treated as indicated.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY HARRIS, M. D.

December 22, 1911.

Report of Dr. Morton E. Hart

To the President, Officers and Members of the Pacific Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Home Society:

I herewith submit a report of the special work done by me at your institution for the past year.

All new children admitted to the Home during the year were examined and those needing treatment along special lines received proper attention.

Children wearing glasses were re-examined and changes were made when necessary. Those developing any symptoms of eye-strain were properly fitted.

A few acute diseases of the ear and throat were reported, but these were of minor importance.

Adenoids and tonsils are being removed, in those cases requiring this operation, as rapidly as time will permit.

I am pleased to state that the physical condition of the children as regards the special sense organs is practically normal.

Respectfully submitted,

MORTON E. HART, M. D.

Report of the Superintendent of the Home

To the President, Officers and Members of the Pacific Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Home Society.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It is a pleasant duty to tender you a detailed accounting of the affairs at the Home for the Aged for the year 1910-1911. We say pleasant, for, thanks to the Almighty and you, ladies and gentlemen, the supporters of our Society, we have been placed in a position to care for the old people entrusted to us in the same manner as we would care for our own parents. Your charges are not only provided with the necessities of life, but they enjoy also such luxuries as are provided in the best private homes, and in case of illness they are given the best of care and medical attention obtainable; in some cases we have even employed special nurses for a long period of time. It is a special source of pleasure to us to be in a position to say in our annual report that, excepting one old lady who has been but lately admitted and who was brought here in a very feeble condition, the other thirty-five all enjoy good health and are happy.

Our greatest concern is to keep the old people in good health and to avoid the ills that come from over-feeding or foods not properly prepared, stale or unfit for their aged digestive organs. This we have in a measure eliminated by requesting the relatives to cease bringing food into the Home. Still there are many who, instead of co-operating with us, smuggle in eatables absolutely unfit for old people, believing they are kind to their relatives or friends, while in fact they do them the greatest injury. The Home provides four meals a day, and for some even five. Nothing but the best the markets afford is bought, while eggs are supplied from our own hens, and vegetables grown in our own garden. These foods are prepared in the cleanest and most thorough manner and supplied to the inmates in abundant quantities and at exactly the same hour and minute every day. You, ladies and gentlemen of the Board, know these things, for you see them constantly, but we mention this here in the hope that the relatives of our old people will stop showing their kindness by bringing in food to the Home without our knowledge, for by co-operating with us, they will save suffering to the old people and great worry to the management.

The physical condition of the Home buildings and grounds is, thanks to the liberal policy of the chairman on Buildings, Mr. Juda Newman, and his committee, in excellent condition. The vacant land is all being cultivated, some in vegetables for the Home use and some in potatoes.

The ladies of the Auxiliary are all doing splendid work, devoting their time principally in furnishing entertainments for the old people and generally looking after their comforts.

The plumbing system, which the ladies have helped to install, is a great source of satisfaction and pleasure.

At the close of the fiscal year the Home cared for thirty-six inmates; during the year, seven were admitted. One gentleman left the Home to live with a daughter in Los Angeles and six were called in to their final resting place; the names, ages, etc., of the departed ones are as follows:

NAME	AGE	DATE OF DEATH	TIME IN HOME
Mrs. Constance Levy	88 years	Sept. 10, 1910	4½ years
Mr. Louis Gronosky	74 "	" 22, "	4 months
Mr. Jacob Fox	71 "	Nov. 28, "	3 years
Mr. Israel Hartman	77 "	Dec. 5, "	3½ "
Mr. Solomon Ochs	86 "	Mar. 8, 1911	14½ "
Mrs. Abigail Da Costa	89 "	June 9, "	1½ "

May their souls rest in peace.

Of the thirty-six inmates the Home now cares for, nineteen are ladies and seventeen gentlemen; their combined age is two thousand seven hundred and fifty (2,750) years, the average age being seventy-six and one-fourth ($76\frac{1}{4}$) years, the youngest being sixty-seven (67) and the oldest over ninety-two (92) years. We have six inmates between the ages of sixty-seven (67) and seventy (70) years, eighteen inmates between the ages of seventy (70) and eighty (80) years, eleven inmates between the ages of eighty (80) and ninety (90) years, and one inmate over ninety-two (92) years old.

Our oldest, who is now over ninety-two years, God bless her! is still the youngest in manner and actions, and it is safe to say, and our records show, that those of the old people who come to the Home at ages between sixty-five and seventy-five, and in a fair state of health, are the ones who live the longest and generally enjoy good health. The reason for it is not a secret. It is due to the regularity of their lives, the enforced cleanliness of their habits and the wholesome nourishment given, that this is possible. We have one with us who has been here for nineteen years, and it is safe to say he is physically the strongest, although he is now eighty-six years old.

You, ladies and gentlemen, who are providing the means to carry on this work certainly obey the commands of God very nobly, and may He shield and protect you and yours against want and illness in your old age. Amen.

We are under many obligations to the Board of Governors for their ever-ready advice and assistance rendered us at all times during the past year, and we extend our sincere thanks to them. To our honored President, Judge Sloss, we are very grateful for his uniform kindness, for personal favors, and for his ever-ready advice in everything that could add to the comfort and well-being of the inmates of the Home. Our Honorary President, Mr. S. W. Levy, has hardly missed a Sunday during the year to visit the Home, and if he fails to appear on his usual visiting day and expected hour, we all feel his absence. We personally thank him and wish him many years of good health, that we and the inmates may have the benefit of his long experience and patient ear.

Our heartiest thanks are herewith extended to our noble Vice-President, Mr. A. Haas, and the chairmen of our House and Building Committees, Messrs. M. J. Brandenstein and Juda Newman, all of whom have given very liberally of their valuable time to the management of the Home. Apart from their visits regularly every few days, their time, advice and influence are ever at our disposal. We fail in words to fittingly express our appreciation. Messrs. Goldstein and Wormser, also the remainder of the Directors, have called regularly and ably assisted us, for which we extend our thanks.

We tender our sincere thanks to the Mt. Zion Hospital for the prompt and efficient attention given to those of our inmates who required hospital care; to the Ladies' Hebrew Sewing Society, for furnishing wearing apparel for our old ladies; to Miss Esther Martin and her friends, Mrs. Louis I. Simon, and the many other generous ladies, who supply amusement to our wards, and also to all those who have remembered the Home and its inmates in various ways; to our good physician, Dr. E. N. Torello, for his prompt response to the calls of the Home and efficient services; to Dr. Chas. G. Bush and Dr. M. R. Gambitz, for the dental work done for our old people.

With the beginning of this New Year, our and your tasks begin anew, ours to watch over the joys and sufferings of the aged and infirm, and yours to provide and assist, both of which are a pleasure. It is a mission that appeals to the best impulses and dictates of the human heart and one that has its reward in the consciousness that rearing the orphan and caring for the aged is the noblest work of all.

Very respectfully submitted,

GUSTAVE AND SARAH SCHNEE,

Superintendent and Matron.
